

MSC Welcome to Week 3

Speaker: Jess Dart

Hello and welcome back to the final week of the MSC training course. So this week we'll be looking at the non-mandatory steps and they include how to verify the stories, how to look at including quantitative data in the stories, and looking across the whole story set and conducting secondary analysis. We'll also have a look at how to troubleshoot the MSC process and all of this together will help you wrap up your MSC Design Plan. So I hope you're feeling confident and that you're ready to put your MSC plan into place. So I'll check in with you again at the end of the week. Good luck.
